

What will happen if my circumstances change during my tenancy and I require an adaptation to my home?

Waverley Housing realises that from time to time some tenants may face difficulty in their living conditions for reasons of disability, age, frailty, or infirmity. We are willing to look at practical ways, where possible, for tenants to stay in their own homes under such circumstances by considering adaptation of their property.

We receive grant funding from the Scottish Government each year for adaptations.