

Simon Lynch

I was looking around for a new opportunity to share my skills and experiences and was delighted when the Chief Exec contacted me about joining the Board. The more I found out more about Waverley and its plans/dreams for the future, the more interested in supporting it actively I became.

As someone who has lived in social housing, and someone committed to improving lives for other Borderers I hope to bring both my personal experiences but also my knowledge of funding, public procurement, finance and social care to help Waverley develop into an even better housing provider.

I've only just joined and found the Board members and staff to be really welcoming and happy to answer any daft laddie questions. I'd encourage anyone with an interest in social housing especially tenants to get involved and have their views heard.

I'm obsessed with football and to a lesser degree rugby league. I no longer play either but enjoy watching both. I also enjoy being outside walking, taking photos, exploring and time with friends and family. Both my partner and I live and work in the Borders and one of my kids is still in a local high school with my daughter now away to Glasgow to study.
